

DAY TRIP
MIDDLE AND HIGH ELEVATION BIRDING AT POAS and CINCHONA

The vicinity of Poas Volcano offers close, accessible birding to San Jose in middle and high elevation habitats. The birding is easy-going, mostly done from the road, and includes visits to sites with fruit and hummingbird feeders. Easy access to high and middle elevation habitats also results in chances at seeing a wide variety of bird species, many of which are regional endemics.

From the airport, it only takes 45 minutes to reach this area, and these are some of the target bird species regular on this route:

- Black Guan (pictured above)
- Barred Hawk
- Green Hermit
- Brown Violetear
- Green Violetear
- Fiery-throated Hummingbird
- Purple-throated and White-bellied Mountain-gems
- Green Thorntail
- Emerald Toucanet
- Prong-billed Barbet
- Buffy Tuftedcheek
- Red-faced Spinetail
- Ruddy Treerunner
- Streak-breasted Treehunter
- Spot-crowned Woodcreeper

- Olivaceous Woodcreeper
- Golden-bellied Flycatcher
- Yellowish Flycatcher
- Barred Becard
- Yellow-winged Vireo
- Ochraceous Wren
- Ruddy-capped and Black-billed Nightingale-thrushes
- Mountain Thrush
- Black-and-yellow Silky-flycatcher
- Long-tailed Silky-flycatcher
- Black-cheeked Warbler
- Collared Redstart
- Flame-throated Warbler
- Tropical Parula
- Wrenthrush
- Silver-throated Tanager (pictured above)
- Bay-headed Tanager
- Sooty-capped Chlorospingus
- Large-footed Finch
- Yellow-thighed Finch
- Sooty-faced Finch
- Black-thighed Grosbeak
- Golden-browed Chlorophonia

Other animals:

Occasionally, Mantled Howler Monkey, Two-toed Sloth, Coyote, and Coati are seen.

Itinerary:

- Pick-up or meeting time at hotel at 5:00 A.M.. Some birding en route with arrival at the Colibri Cafe in Cinchona by 6 or 6:30 or 7:00 A.M..
- Watch six to ten hummingbird species and other birds coming to the fruit feeders (including Prong-billed Barbet, Emerald Toucanet, and tanagers) until 8:00 or so. As this site acts as an overlook into a large canyon, raptors are also possible and other species show up in the vegetation around the cafe. Breakfast is also possible at the cafe and highly recommended. A good site for bird photography.
- At 8:00, we bird a few sites just down the road from the cafe, looking for Bat Falcon, White Hawk, and other raptors, and mixed flocks that can host Red-headed Barbet and various tanagers. We will also visit sites lower down to look for yellowthroats, and some foothill species.
- 1 P.M. Lunch at the Volcan Restaurant. Located at 2,000 meters elevation and in a forested riparian zone, this restaurant is a great spot for seeing a variety of cloud forest and high elevation species. The hummingbird feeders attract Volcano Hummingbird, Magenta-throated Woodstar and six other species, and Resplendent Quetzal makes an occasional appearance in the forest just across the road. After a delicious lunch, we will check higher elevations on the road up to Poas to look for Buffy Tuftedcheek, Sooty Thrush, Fiery-throated Hummingbird, Wrenthrush, Black Guan, and other species until 4:30 P.M.

Price:

1 to 4 participants: $140 for the group plus expenses for lunch or $110 for half a day.

5-8 participants: $180 for the group plus expenses for lunch or $140 for half a day.

Price does not include costs for transportation nor park entrance fees (no entrance fees for this itinerary).

If transportation is needed, please mention this in your email.

NIGHT BIRDING EXTENSION- Instead of leaving the area at 4:30 and dealing with rush hour traffic, we can look for Dusky Nightjar and Bare-shanked Screech-Owl until 6 P.M.. Then, we eat dinner in the area, and head back out to look for Unspotted Saw-whet Owl (very rare), and, on the way back to the hotel, Mottled Owl and Tropical Screech-Owl.

Price: $75 for the group.

*THIS TOUR CAN ALSO BE SPLIT INTO TWO DAYS- ONE WITH A FOCUS ON THE FOOTHILLS, AND THE OTHER FOCUSING ON MIDDLE AND HIGH ELEVATIONS.
